RELIGIOUS SONG ISSUE SHELVED

State School Board Avoids Controversy

Christmas Carol Protests Are Tabled

Teachers Warned to Exercise Tact in Selections

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SACRAMENTO, April 1.—Acted apparently by a desire to avoid a prolonged controversy, openly declared to be fraught with the danger of stirring up religious hostilities with regard to the conduct of the public schools, the State Board of Education yesterday afternoon, after a short period of verbal maneuvering, virtually tabled two sets of protests and counter-protests dealing with Christmas carols and other songs which are sung by children in the schools. It became known today. Although the opinion of board members was expressed in conventional language, the strongest note of warning running through the entire discussion was that the situation was loaded with dynamite, which might explode unless handled with extreme care.

Such discussion as developed centered around a protest filed in the name of the Council of Jewish Women of Long Beach against the practice of teachers in permitting the singing of Christmas carols and other songs of a religious character in the schools of the southern city. The basis of the protest is that the singing of such songs is objectionable to parents and children of the Jewish faith.

The counter-protests also signed by residents of Long Beach, were aimed at the protests of Jewish women and designed to prevent the board from taking any steps to bar songs now in use in the schools. Suggestions that teachers should use tact in arranging musical programs least likely to cause friction were numerous, but this was seemingly as far as the board went in arranging musical programs. The official agents to the State school body, should pass the word along to teachers in all parts of California that the board is anxious to promote harmony among all public school patrons.

A brief description of the carols and songs under fire was contained in a report filed with the board by W. L. Stephens, school superintendent of Long Beach. The list included the following: "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing"; "Silent Night"; "Little Town of Bethlehem"; "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear"; and "Cradle Hymn."

ERROR IN GISH CASE ADMITTED

Duell Utterly Confused by Attack on Ledger

Accountant Testifies False Entries Ordered

Sudden Developments Halt Heated Session

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, April 1.—Admission that he had made incorrect statements in his affidavit to the court were wrung from Charles H. Duell, Jr., motion-picture producer, by Max D. Stur, counsel for Lillian Gish, screen star, who is seeking to have her seven-year contract with Duell nullified. A moment later his accountant, Frederick H. Holden, swore that he had falsified entries in the Gish account at the direction of Duell.

These developments came so suddenly that recess was taken during which time counsel and the witnesses will seek to gather up the new ends of evidence. Previously, Mr. Stur had sought to bring out the internal dissensions among the partners of the Inspiration Pictures, Inc., which company sold its rights to Duell. It was also contended by Miss Gish's counsel that Duell was in no financial position to take over these obligations. Several times United States District Judge Mack interrupted comment at the expense of the witness.

DUELL IN CONFUSION
From the outset of Stur's continued cross-examination today he threw Duell into confusion by confronting him with a batch of telegrams he had sent Miss Gish informing her of his "fairness" because he had paid her her percentage of road-show receipts from "The White Sister." He was compelled to admit the statements in the telegrams were false as he never had made any such payments. He said he must have been confused.

"Who was confusing you?" asked Stur. "Was it Miss Gish? You expected her to do anything you asked her to do and believe anything you said, didn't you?" shouted Stur.

"What led you to state you had paid her?" Duell were sane then, weren't you? Were you so reckless in your statements to her that you didn't care whether they were true or not?"

Duell was utterly confused and gave such haphazard answers that Judge Mack cautioned him to think before he talked.

James Rennie, Broadway star and husband of the defendant's sister, Dorothy Gish, was in court today and apparently enjoyed Duell's utter confusion on the witness stand.

Duell spent an uncomfortable half hour trying to explain an entry of $4000 in his ledger under date of September 9, 1924, for moneys advanced Miss Gish in October and November.

ACCOUNTANT TESTIFIES
"How can you do such gymnastics?" queried Stur. "I'm that book part of a plan you organized to meet the assertions of Miss Gish's counsel in a letter to you?" Duell denied this.

"If this book isn't all a fake to take the place of one destroyed, how is it there is an entry on a certain date for something that did not occur until two months later?" asked Judge Mack.

Duell informed the court he would have to ask Mr. Holden, his accountant, and Judge Mack caustically informed the witness he surely would seek such an explanation from Holden.

Counsel selected various statements from Duell's affidavit which were admittedly incorrect and asked Duell, as a lawyer, if he did not think he was under obligation to the court to make his affidavit accurate. The witness said he had tried to do so but that he must have been a bit "confused" upon some of the facts stated in the affidavit.

Duell's cross-examination was interrupted while Frederick H. Holden, his accountant, was called and testified that Duell had directed him to make the $4000 entry against Miss Gish in the cash book and that the notation was made in November or early in December.

DIAMOND OUTPUT GROWS
NEW YORK, April 1.—The output of diamonds from South Africa for eleven months of 1924, ended November 30, was $7,488,000 as against $5,423,000 as the output for the corresponding period of 1923. According to advices received by the Bankers' Trust Company of New York, the diamond industry of the world is having to contend with over-production consequent on fresh discoveries in other parts of the world.

SHEPHERD BAIL FIGHT IS PUSHED

Affidavits of New Witnesses Filed by Defense

All of Depositions Attack Faiman Statements

Hearing in Release Will be Continued Today

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, April 1.—Attorneys for William D. Shepherd, foster-father of William Nelson McClintock, millionaire orphan, and accused of slaying McClintock by administering typhoid germs in order to gain possession of his estate, today filed six affidavits before Chief Justice Jacob Hopkins of the Criminal Court in a further attempt to gain Shepherd's release on bail.

All the affidavits attacked statements of Charles C. Faiman, proprietor of a scientific school, whose confession that Shepherd offered him $100,000 for typhoid germs and information about administering them, resulted in Shepherd's indictment on charges of murder. Faiman has never been arrested formally.

One of the affidavits was made by Dr. Herman N. Bunsden, City Health Commissioner, who swore that he was official of the city bacteriological department. All were to the effect that typhoid cultures were very closely guarded and were issued only to persons after careful investigation. All said that Faiman had never obtained any cultures from the City Health Department, as he claimed.

Another affidavit was made by Oscar Modams, said to be a former husband of Mrs. Faiman. He asserted that Faiman had been interested in the operation of dispirited houses in St. Louis and Detroit, and had been in jail in St. Paul in 1922 charged with murder by illegal operation. A fifth affidavit was made by the mother of Earl Clark, the latter formerly associated with Faiman. She said her son had told her that Faiman had implicated Shepherd while under threat of prosecution for "illegal practices in his school."

The affidavits were filed in connection with the hearing on Shepherd's release which will be continued tomorrow morning after Judge Hopkins has considered the affidavits filed today.

MANITOBA FLOODS ON RAMPAGE

Railroads Washed Out, Highways, Homes, Farms Are Inundated

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WINNIPEG, April 1.—Floods which have menaced the Prairie Provinces for forty-eight hours increased in seriousness in Manitoba today. Meanwhile waters in Southern Saskatchewan, except at Tantallon and Lumsden, were reported receding.

Two miles of Canadian National railroad were washed out at Bredin, near Lumsden, and both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific traffic was tied up in other parts of Saskatchewan. Homes have been abandoned generally in the Lumsden district.

With the main highway under several feet of water, a dam was hastily built last night to protect the town of Arcola from flood waters of Moose Creek. At Woodrow, which has been isolated except for train service, the situation was improving tonight.

The Assiniboine River has overflowed its banks at Portage, Man., and in the vicinity of Garfield's Creek, near Portage, Alta., prairie farmers prepared to vacate their homes.

Workers have been busy removing marooned families at Regina and other Manitoba points.

A continuance of warm weather, which caused ice to break up earlier than usual, is predicted.

PRISON PAL SWEARS TO BANDIT ALIBI

Chapman Says He Was in Brooklyn Shortly Before Killing of Officer

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
HARTFORD (Conn.) April 1.—Gerald Chapman, mail thief and jail breaker, asserts he was in Brooklyn, N. Y., within four hours of the time he was charged by the State of Connecticut with having shot to death Patrolman James Skelly, in New Britain.

Three alibi witnesses, one of them a former "buddy" in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, swore today that they had seen him in Brooklyn at an hour when three other witnesses, testifying for the prosecution, placed Chapman in the Old Colony Inn at Meriden, Ct.

Loyle Chastane, former convict and now proprietor of a stationery store in Brooklyn, swore that he had been with Chapman until after 2 o'clock the morning of Sunday, October 12, 1924. Skelly was shot down by one of two safe loaders in the store of Davidson & Leventhal in New Britain some time around 7 o'clock that same morning.

Francis M. Brew, young bank clerk, and John A. Martin, both residents of the neighborhood of Chastane's store, testified that they had seen Chapman in Chastane's store that Saturday night.

WILSON RELIEF PLAN COMPLETE

Reorganization of Packing Concern Announced

Formation of New Company Now Contemplated

Arrangement Decided Upon After Months of Work

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, April 1.—The reorganization of Wilson & Co. by the formation of a new company under the direction of a reorganization committee representing the bank debt convertible bonds and preferred and common stock of the company, was announced tonight by the committee which has been working for several months on a plan to relieve the packing concern of financial difficulties.

The plan contemplates that the properties of the present company will be acquired by a new company through a sale under decrees of the Federal courts, due to the fact that the company is now in the hands of receivers. The plan provides for the adjustment of about $51,548,000 of the company's obligations, while $40,972,000 would be left undisturbed.

In exchange for the debt to be adjusted, the plan contemplates an issuance of 7 per cent preferred stock of no par value, convertible Class A stock and no par value common stock. The 7 per cent preferred stock will be preferred as to both assets and earnings, will be cumulative after two years and redeemable at $110 a share, and accrued dividends and entitled to receive the same amount per share on liquidation.

The Class A stock will be preferred as to dividends over the new common stock in the amount of $5 per share per year; will be cumulative after five years and preferred as to assets in the amount of $75 a share and accrued dividends in case of liquidation. It is to be redeemable at $75 a share and accrued dividends and convertible into new common stock share for share. All three classes of stock will have equal voting power.

The only financing provided by the plan is the sale of $2,500,000 of five-year 6 per cent gold notes of the new company.

The cost of Coffee is only a small part of the cost of the meal

WE ALL know that there has been an advance in the price of Coffee. Like everything else, it costs more now than it used to. But even at that, it costs you comparatively less than most of the other good things on your table.

The price of Coffee today naturally seems high by comparison with the price you used to pay. But compared with the present prices of other staples, Coffee is still cheap. What else can you buy for the same money that will last as long and bring you as much genuine enjoyment and pleasure? Yet Coffee makes the meal!

As a matter of fact, Coffee for home use costs you just about 1 1/2 cents per cup. And this cost is only 1/20 or 1/40 or even 1/50 of the total cost of the average meal. That isn't very much, is it?

KREMER GIVES BENGAL OUTFIT PAINLESS WIN Pittsburgh Hurler Walks in Winning Run in Ninth; Tigers Knock Emil Yde to Clubhouse

BY ROBERT E. RAY

A little walking gas, supplied by Hurler "Wiz" Kremer, acted as the anesthetic to give the Vernon Tigers a painless 6-to-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in their initial performance here this season yesterday at Washington Park. With the bases full in the ninth, Kremer couldn't locate the plate after getting two strikes on Red Oldham and walked the sore-latched heaver, simultaneously forcing in the winning run and the white flag up the mast of the good ship, McKechnie.

The game, which, like the ground, was a little soggy in spots, was an interesting one to view, lots of fussy catches and numerous long-distance clouds being turned in by the staidest, "Pie Traynor, b. i. g. bouncing Pirate h. o. n. o. r. guardian, turned in a couple of thrilling plays, making a stop of Hemingway's drive in the seventh, b. i. g. was a wonder. Eddie Moore, Vernon center-fielder, yesterday was like the little girl with the curl in the middle of her forehead. was very, very good when good, and not so good at other times. The Tiger flycatcher made one catch in deep center that robbed Traynor of a three-base hit, but he also muffed one and misjudged one to offset that bit of work. Moore had a busy day, handling eight chances altogether.

Pittsburgh's Eddie Moore, who generally plays second base, was not in the Buc line-up because of illness. Thompson taking his place at the keystone sack. Eslick also was without the services of one regular, Tommy Oliver playing in right field in place of Blakeley.

JACK DEMPSEY BIG HIT OF BATTLE FLEET MEET

Champ Provides Thrills for Crowd

Capture Track Title

BY BRAVEN DYER

Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion and just at present a motion-picture actor of considerable renown, put the big kick into yesterday's Battle Fleet program of athletic events at the Coliseum. Close to 10,000 persons, three of whom were civilians, watched the fistic king box three rounds with Lee Moore, a courageous lightweight, and then put on a ten-minute ear-twisting, head-bumping and bone-crushing act with Bull Montana, whose pulchritude has won him many a beauty contest.

There were two other brilliant performances on the afternoon's program. Bud Houser, U.S.C. star and winner of the shot and discus in the Olympic Games last year, established a new world's record in the latter event. His mark was made from a seven-foot circle and displaces the old record of 145 ft. 3 1/4 in. established in 1912 by Jim Duncan. Houser heaved the platter 147 ft. 7 in. At present the discus is shown from a circle measuring 8 ft. 2 1/4 in. the world record for this being held by Duncan at 146 ft. 1 3/4 in.

Maj. W. L. Karnes and Teammates Dispose of Movie Players by Score of 11 1/2 to 3 1/2

By crashing through the Hollywood golfers to a 11 1/2 to 3 1/2 point win yesterday Maj. W. L. Karnes and his Los Angeles team-mates clinched the Southern California Golf Association Class A Interclub team championship on the links of the Los Angeles club.

Wilshire, by a gratifying win of 13 points to 2, over San Gabriel golfers crawled up well on Rancho who won a hard-fought match from Flintridge, 8 to 7. Unless Annandale takes an unexpected brace, Wilshire should cop second place in the final meet of the present season. April 14, for while Rancho will be fighting out a return match with Flintridge, Wilshire golfers will entertain—and probably massacre—Annandale's team the same day.

Bout at Polo Grounds

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, April 1.—Tom Gibbons of St. Paul and Gene Tunney of Greenwich Village were matched today to meet in a fifteen-round battle at the Polo Grounds on the evening of Friday, June 12, next. While Tunney is American light-heavyweight champion, that title will not be at stake inasmuch as the articles call for them to come in at catchweights. This means that both will scale well over the light-heavyweight limit, which is 175 pounds.

While the date for the fight has been set for June 12, this is subject to the approval of the Boxing Commission. If the commission does not approve

Coffroth Handicap Race

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN DIEGO, April 1.—Chilhowee winner of last year's Latonia derby, and the favorite in the $50,000 Coffroth handicap at Tia Juana last Sunday, was doped shortly before that important stake race, according to an exclusive story published by the Evening Tribune here today. Chilhowee, on whom hundreds of thousands of dollars was bet throughout the country Sunday, gave the poorest exhibition of his otherwise brilliant career, finishing tenth in a field of twelve.

Immediately after Sunday's race Chilhowee was taken to his stable and there collapsed. The famous racer is still in a very weakened condition, according to word from the Tia Juana track. Chilhowee's illness, it was said, has been diagnosed by veterinarians as being due to chloral.

AIR COMMERCE FOUND LACKING

Peace-Time Use of Aircraft Failure So Far

Cost, Danger, Human Fear of Height, All Factors

Dirigible Most Expedient Form of Aviation

(This is the eleventh of a series of articles on the aircraft controversy obtained especially for The Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

BY WILL IRWIN

When the Wrights conquered a new dimension, they imagined a mighty commercial future for the airplane. Within a few years, they thought, passengers and light freights would be traveling at unheard-of speed through the air. Then soldiers of the European armies began to take a significant interest—which, it is recorded, somewhat troubled those two benevolent, peace-loving Yankees.

"Well," said Wilbur to Orville finally, "there's one consolation. They'll make war so horrible that it will become impossible." Which may stand some day as a prophecy, but not yet as a reality.

Today, more than twenty years after the Wrights first hopped off at Kitty Hawk, the airplane has served better than that killing machine. It is still almost a failure as a commercial vehicle. The governments of Europe are encouraging aviation, flying as the only means to their military plans. Were it not for that, Europe would probably see from one year's end to the other a little stunt-flying at country fairs.

After the Armistice that fraternity of the air created by the war started with considerable enthusiasm to put commercial aviation on the map. Looking back over six years of experience, these pioneers see perhaps that they got off on the wrong foot.

AIRCRAFT LIMITATIONS

Speed is the strongest quality of an airplane; carrying capacity its weakest. It seemed obvious that passengers, who weigh comparatively little and who want speed, would pay better than freight. The British began to subsidize passenger-lines by capitalizing them; the French by paying them bounties on every trip. The British system has worked better than the French, but it is still a failure.

In the beginning, first-class passengers took the aerial route from London to Paris or from Paris to Brussels largely as a dare. But it was noticed that many who tried it once for adventure, or by way of proving they were not afraid to fly, journeyed thereafter by boat or train.

The traveling public demands five things of a passenger carrier—safety, speed, comfort, reliability, and cheapness. In only one of these qualities—has the airplane an advantage over the railroad or steamship. Heavier than air aviation is not yet safe; never will be until we build a thoroughly reliable engine. During the first year of commercial aviation, a passenger plane was shot down in London and Paris stood one chance in 2000 of death or serious injury if he went by airplane, and only one chance in several millions if he went by common carrier.

FLYING UNCOMFORTABLE

As for comfort, flying at best is roughing it. Not one person in thousands, aviators estimate, really likes to go up in the air for the first time. We have an implanted racial instinct against getting our feet off the ground. The dips and bounces of this unstable vehicle disturb most passengers; airsickness is almost as common as seasickness. In an open machine, one is fighting the great wind generated by a speed of 100 miles an hour; even in a cabin machine, one is packed like a sardine.

I need cite no figures or statistics to prove that air travel is not yet reliable. Finally, it costs much more than transportation by land or sea. The Europeans maintain their passenger aviation frankly as a military auxiliary. It furnishes them with a reserve corps of trained pilots; it keeps the factories running at concert pitch; it provides a supply of engines against an emergency.

We have not subsidized aviation. Nevertheless we have had one passenger line which, going on its own, made money for a while. Its craft plied between the Florida mainland and the American or British islands off the coast. But this year, the high cost of replacement forced it to suspend operations, at least temporarily. Here comes in another difficulty of commercial aviation. An airplane is a small craft, but it is a very expensive one. It must be overhauled after 200 hours at least; two or three overhauls, at least, are necessary. Certain other parts wear out almost as fast. When you have spent $10,000 to $15,000 apiece for your machines, your outlay on "rolling stock" has only begun. For the present, one may count out passenger aviation by heavier-than-air machines.

MAY BE SOLUTION

The true ship, the dirigible of the Rhineland or Los Angeles type, may have a better future. Even now, it affords much more pleasure than the airplane. "For ordinary comfort, leaving our unnecessary luxuries," said an officer who flew on the Los Angeles to Bermuda, "we were at least as well off as sea-travelers on the best liners fifty years ago. We were much better off if you figure on seasickness."

Filled with helium instead of the dangerous, inflammable hydrogen, the dirigible is safer than the airplane. Engine trouble does not mean in its case a forced landing. Its motors do not have the double task of driving it forward and keeping it up in the air; consequently within limits not yet approached, we may extend its range by increasing its size. The Los Angeles has not as yet quite enough range to make regular trips between New York and London. It would have, if we chose to fill it with the lighter but inflammable

SUCCEEDED IN 'RAISING' BAIL

Policeman Assaults Judge in Bond Argument; Double, Now

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) NEW YORK, April 1.—When Patrolman Arthur Williams met Police Judge Louis Buttner of Keansburg, N. J., on a lonely road, he asked the judge, who had let him leave court to try to raise $250 bail in which he was held on a charge of tapping a water main, whether he would accept a bond signed by George McDonnell.

Judge Buttner refused, he said, and the policeman knocked him down and kicked him. Judge Buttner made out an additional complaint of assault, on which Justice of the Peace Harry Seaman held Williams in an additional $250 bail.

The British are going ahead toward passenger-carrying by airship. They have now on the stocks a giant craft which in 1926 or 1927 will maintain a regular schedule between London and Great Britain has no helium, the builders will perform use the more dangerous hydrogen. However, ships of this size filled even with helium would have the range to ply safely between our coast and Europe.

SEA ROUTES BEST

For various reasons, lighter-than-air machines are more practicable over sea than over land. Our first really successful passenger aviation may stand to the record of a line running dirigibles between New York and London or Paris. Its ships, even at present speeds, would land their passengers in two days; whereas the fastest trans-Atlantic liners take five or six.

Now, however, the practitioners of commercial flying are on a new tack. Suddenly they have realized that while passenger aviation seems for the present commercially impracticable, there may be a future for the transportation of light, fast, valuable freights over long distances. The United States mail service, between New York and San Francisco has shown the way. Its promoters call it the most successful experiment up to date in commercial aviation. One can scarcely deny that claim. Col. Henderson and his associates, who made the transcontinental line possible, may go down as pioneers. ("The Promise of the Mail Service," the twelfth installment of Will Irwin's series on the aircraft controversy, follows tomorrow.)

YOUTHS DIG FOR BONES OF REGICIDE

Believe Famous Fugitive Buried Under Apple Tree in Connecticut

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) EAST HAMPTON (Ct.) April 1.—Beneath a gnarled old apple tree, a mile south of Middle Haddam, Ct., two young men, encouraged by a tradition older than Middlesex county itself, and by the assurance of a historian, are digging for the bones of "Col. Goffe, regicide judge, who signed the death warrant of Charles I. They are John and Lawrence Becker, sons of the quarryman who owns the plot. John Carrier, a descendant of John Carrier, King Charles's executioner, who is compiling a history of the locality, is spurring them on.

Several years ago Edwin Brinard, former owner of the lot, refused to allow a historical society to search for the grave because he held strong prejudicial against disturbing the dead. An added incentive to the present quest is that Judge Goffe's sword, the hilt of which contained a big diamond, is said to have been buried with him.

Historical traces of the regicide judge was long ago when he was seen in Hartford. The best-known incident of his exile in America was his sudden appearance in Haddam, Mass., in 1644, where he allied the disheartened townsmen during an Indian attack.

Carrier says Judge Goffe left following the death in 1674 of his fellow-exile, Edward Whalley, with whom he had lived for some time in a cave at West Rock. He is supposed to have fled to Middle Haddam and spent the rest of his remaining days there when Charles II started out to avenge his father's death.

RESALE TALKED FOR RAILWAY MATERIAL

JAPANESE PLAN TRANSFER OF CZARIST REGIME ORDER TO SOVIETS

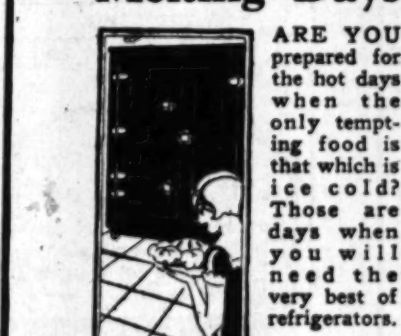

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) VANCOUVER (B. C.) April 1.—An endeavor is being made by the Japanese steamship company to have the Japanese government finance the Russian government to a point where the latter will be able to buy the Russian railway material that has been on Canadian Pacific Railway side tracks since the revolution started.

This material, which is wide gauge and suitable for the Russian roads, was financed by the British government during the war and was being sent to Russia through this port and Siberia. At the time the equipment got this far the revolution had become effective and the British government halted the shipment, leaving it here, and letting a contract every few years for the painting of this rolling stock to keep it in good shape.

The British commission for the liquidation of surplus war supplies sold this material in February to the Richmond Steel Company of New York, which concern now is endeavoring to market it. The original value of this equipment was several million dollars. If the Japanese line is successful in having it sold to Russia, it will, about ten steamers to carry it, thus making fair freight returns.

COMPROMISE ON VALLEJO WATER

City Plans Amended Answer to Injunction

Farmers' Demands Satisfied Says Counsel

Legal Battle Held Averted by Town's Act

FAIRFIELD (Cal.) April 1.—The city of Vallejo today filed notice that an amended answer to the injunction suit of Suisun Valley farmers agreeing to impound only rain and storm waters in her Gordon Valley water project, which is to supply the city with water for domestic purposes will be filed on the 7th inst.

The amended answer was determined upon on the eve of what was predicted to be a prolonged and bitter battle between the city of Vallejo and the farmers, who sought $5,000,000 damages because of Vallejo's intentions to take 5000 acre feet from Gordon and Woodland in Suisun Valley, 2700 acres of which had riparian water rights, protested Vallejo taking such a large amount of water, claiming their lands and orchards would be rendered valueless by the almost total loss of water. They carried their claims to court in the form of an injunction suit seeking to restrain Vallejo from taking 5000 acre feet of water from Gordon Creek and asking $500,000 an acre in damages on their property should the water be taken.

Vallejo voted a bond issue of $1,250,000 for the purpose of bringing water from Gordon Valley to Vallejo for domestic purposes.

The city of Vallejo today filed notice that an amended answer to the injunction suit of Suisun Valley farmers agreeing to impound only rain and storm waters in her Gordon Valley water project, which is to supply the city with water for domestic purposes will be filed on the 7th inst.

The amended answer was determined upon on the eve of what

land in Suisun Valley, 2700 acres of which had riparian water rights, protested Vallejo taking such a large amount of water, claiming their lands and orchards would be rendered valueless by the almost total loss of water. BISCHOFF FOUND GUILTY

Chicago "Ponzi" Charged With Huge Swindle May Get One to Ten-Year Term Following Verdict

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, April 1.—Raymond J. Bischoff, young financial "genius" charged with operating a $2,000,000 swindle among foreign born residents of the Southwest Side, was found guilty by a jury today in Judge William J. Linney's court. He may be sentenced to from one to ten years in the penitentiary upon the specific charge of which he was convicted—that of swindling.

Judge Linney announced that sentence would be deferred until after the court hears a motion for a new trial on the part of Bischoff's counsel on the 11th inst.

Only a few spectators were in court when the jury returned after a four-hour deliberation. One of the witnesses, Bischoff's mother, burst into tears at the reading of the verdict. Bischoff, who is 29 years of age, displayed no emotion.

The alert Bailiff Burto, took notes and listened attentively as the last

Belgian Ladies Follow Queen's Bobbing Example

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PARIS, April 1.—Queen Elisabeth of Belgium having had her hair bobbed, other Belgian ladies who have been shy on being shown have now gained courage.

The Queen did not come to the decision easily, for when she first suggested it there was dismay among her court ladies. Many attempted to dissuade her. They held a meeting to devise means of inducing her not to take a step that had never been taken by royalty, but when the delegates reached the Queen they snapped.

"Yes," said the Queen, "it takes less time to go to the hair dresser than to hold a meeting."

The ladies in waiting could only withdraw and many of them soon went to be bobbed.

SWORDS DRAWN BY M'ADOO WING HINDU MURDERS TWO ON RANCH

Jefferson Day Dinner to be Third Saved as Wife Strikes Held in Kansas City Arm of Assailant

Aim is to Outlaw New York Party Machine Slayer is Rushed to Jail to Avoid Lynching

WASHINGTON, April 1.— Brandishing swords instead of olive branches, the McAdoo wing of the Democratic party gave the death blow to Franklin D. Roosevelt's harmony party today when a call went out for a conference of McAdoo supporters at Kansas City, the 13th inst.

Determined to outlaw the Smith-Hague-Brennan machine and ef-fectuate a union of southern and western Democrats the admirers of the former Secretary of the Treasury and leading Presidential candidate at the New York convention will discuss ways and means of advancing his political fortunes, regardless of any effect on the future of the party.

DINNER SIDE ISSUE
The conference will be held under the name of a Jefferson Day dinner, arranged by the Kansas City Jefferson Club. This is an organization of Democratic women.
But the dinner will be the side-show, and, at more or less mysterious conferences the various Mc-Adoo leaders from the South and West will provide the main political attraction.

Mr. McAdoo will not be there in person, but it is planned to send the gathering's felicitations to him.
The attendance has been limited by circumstances which, though designed to shut off retaliation by the Smith-Hague-Brennan men, has fooled nobody. Only States carved out of territory acquired during Jefferson's administration will be represented. This includes States formerly a part of the Louisiana Purchase and the territory ceded to the government under the Ordinance of 1787—all good McAdoo territory, incidentally.

MILTON TO ATTEND
Among those scheduled to attend is George R. Milton of Chattanooga, one of McAdoo's managers at New York. He is publisher of a newspaper in the southern city, and in a recent editorial he declared that "Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Tammany Tiger should keep their hands off the Democratic party."

Others invited are former Secretary of Agriculture Meredith; Representative Rainey of Illinois; J. H. Ray, former Democratic candidate for Governor of Iowa, and M. L. Fox of Washington, D. C., who was treasurer of Mc-Adoo's pre-convention campaign committee.

Chicago Legal Expert's Wife, Now an Angeleno, Let Tryst Suit Drop

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, April 1.—Edward C.
Higgins, city's legal expert drawing $50 a day, almost had the chance of his life to be a legal expert for nothing this morning when his wife had him arraigned before Municipal Judge John H. Bueger in the Sheffield-avenue Court. She had found him at 4 o'clock in the morning in the apartment at 712 Waveland avenue of Mrs. Albion C. Dejemek, the widow of his former law partner.

But Mrs. Higgins, who now makes her home in Los Angeles, remained at the home of her brother, Dr. James W. Kelly, 159 East One Hundred and Eleventh street, and the case was dismissed for want of prosecution.

As far as the police matter is concerned, the well-paid legal expert and Mrs. Dejemek, 30-year-old woman lawyer, aren't in the picture at all. For the expert was prudent enough to give his name as John Gray, 50 years of age, 714 Waveland avenue, when the police took him to the station at dawn today. And the lady scribbled the name of Florence Brown on the book; gave her age as 30, and her address as 714 Waveland avenue.

But Mrs. Higgins had made the identification and no mistake, she insisted, when she accompanied by detectives, had broken in on the pajama-clad couple, and cried:
"Your zero hour has come, angel face!"

"Who's going to pay? Not the woman. No, indeed, it's the father this time who's going to pay." And the man who was appointed to the $50-a-day expert job back in September, 1922, stood up in court today, anxious to learn who was to pay and how much.
Attorney Gail Block, counsel for Mrs. Higgins, was there to help tell him.

But Mrs. Higgins was absent and the case was dismissed.
"It's just a frame by Mrs. Higgins," Mrs. Dejemek declared tonight. "Mr. Higgins has been boarding here while his wife was away. She's just framing on him.
You can tell that by the way she backed down and refused to prosecute this morning."

To Be an Employer Becoming an employer is not the simplest thing in the world.
If the story contained in recently published figures is to be credited, the figures show that for every man employed in an industry there has to be approximately $5000 in machinery, materials and money.
Or, to become an employer of 100 men, you need $500,000 for machinery, material and running expenses.—(Open Road.)

WISE ONES
The Grand Duchess Cyril said many clever things during her American visit. She told a New York girl reporter:
"The woman most successful with men are the beautiful ones, but the wise ones. And the wise ones are those who know that men are only babies with beards."

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CALIPATRIA, April 1.—Two of the most prominent men in the Imperial Valley were shot and killed today by a Hindu farmer in a dispute, details of which have not been determined, on the A.
S. Bradford ranch, five miles southwest of here. After the double slaying the Hindu drove his automobile here and fired a shot at an associate of the two victims, which missed. He was placed under arrest and rushed to El Centro because a lynching was feared.
The dead are: Victor R. Sterling, real estate operator and pioneer of Imperial Valley development, and an associate, John B.
Haggard, owner of the Consolidated Fruit Exchange. The slayer is declared, is Parker Singh, a lettuce farmer who has been in the valley nine years and is said to have been one of the leading figures in colonization of Hindus in the valley.

FOREMAN SEES SHOOTING
There were no eyewitnesses to the events that led to the shooting, although Frank Fisher, foreman of the ranch, saw the shooting of Haggard.
Sterling was shot first, one bullet passing through his chest and another taking off the top of his head. A third shot missed.
Haggard fled across a small bridge over an irrigation ditch and Fisher, attracted by the shots, came between Haggard and the Hindu.

"I don't want to shoot you, you are all right," Singh warned Fisher, who tried to reason with him.
Haggard started to run again and was shot down the bullet plowing through his head. He dropped about fifty feet away.
According to Fisher, Singh ran to his tent and came back with an ax, with which he crushed the skull of the prostrate and lifeless man. The Hindu then got into his car and drove here.

When he stopped his car in front of the office of Haggard and Herbert J. Thornberg the Hindu was invited to come inside by Thorn-berg, who was ignorant of the double slaying.

WIFE HITS ARM
As Singh entered the door of the office he raised his revolver and pointed it at Thornberg. Mrs.
Thornberg, standing near by, struck the Hindu's arm and the shot went wild.

At this point, Marshal Holmes appeared and disarmed Singh and placed him under arrest.
Because of the prominence of the two men and of reports that a mob was forming in a local pool hall, Marshal Holmes placed the Hindu in an automobile and rushed him to El Centro.

As soon as Singh arrived in El Centro he sent for Attorney Edward Hervey and retained him as counsel. Hervey, according to reports from El Centro, refused to discuss the case, and the Hindu refuses to talk.

Coroner Lemons was notified and ordered the bodies removed to the Hoopes undertaking rooms in Brawley.

Marshal Holmes and other officers returned to the scene of the tragedy and questioned four Mexicans and a number of Hindus. The latter, said to have witnessed part of the slayings. Four of the Mexicans were held as material witnesses.

Searching the vicinity for the ax said to have been used by Singh on the prostrate body of Haggard, the officers reported they found it buried under a pile of dead leaves.
The officers declare it was placed there after the Hindu departed for Calipatria.

Both of the dead men leave widows. Both are middle-aged.

A PANTRY PEST

Sir Francis Drake Recorded First Meeting with Cockroaches

Sir Francis Drake, buccaneer of 300 years ago, once took a prize Spanish ship loaded with spices from India. It is recorded that on that ship was a strange "black bugger" which the Spanish called "cucaracha," which, strictly speaking, meant "wood louse." This cucaracha became the modern cockroach.

It was a native of India, never until that time seen in Europe.
These cockroaches, however, were sturdy fellows, given to living in dark and narrow places, and therefore happy in the holds of ships that plied the seas. Thus these argosies of commerce have served as a means of broadcasting the cockroach, and it is found in abundance wherever man dwells.

His bones have provided suitable breeding and dwelling places for these children of the warm countries.

New species, one in America, and one in Australia, were found and described. So have world-girdling multitudes of them appeared where before there were none at all or but local tribes. This increase in the range and numbers of the cockroach is typical of the man influence in the insect world.—(William Atherton Du Puy in Harper's Magazine.)

She Knew Her Book
It is frequently observed that civility is not what it used to be.
There is the story that Harriet Martineau used to relate:
One day in a hotel she and several friends were talking by the fire, when she suddenly discovered that the dress of one of the women was alight. Commotion ensued, and happily the burning garment was extinguished. Thereafter on a polite old lady sitting opposite remarked with the utmost self-complacency: "I have observed for some time that that lady's dress was burning; but as I had not the honor of an introduction to her, I did not like to mention it."
—(Argonaut.)

Just About
Newrich: I am a self-made man.
Friend: I suppose your wife and daughter are very proud of you.
Newrich: Yes; just about as proud as they would be of a homemade dress.—(Boston Transcript.)

Bischoff Ha Sido Declarado Culpable
CHICAGO, Abril 1.—Raymond J.
Bischoff, joven y "genial" financlero, acusado de haber practicado estafas por valor de $2,000,000 entre los restantes extranjeros de Southwest Side, fue hoy declarado culpable por un jurado, en la sala del juez William J. Lindsay. Es probable que resulte sentenciado a prisión de uno a diez años en la penitenciaría, fundada en el cargo concreto que se le ha probado: el de haberse estafado $1000 al doctor John P. Poska.

Anunció el juez Lindsay que se aplicaría la sentencia hasta que el jurado tome conocimiento del decurso de nuevo juicio interpuesto el 11 del próximo pasado por el defensor de Bischoff.

No había en el juzgado más que unos cuantos espectadores cuando volvieron los jurados, después de deliberar por espacio de cuatro ho-ras. Una de las personas presentes era la madre de Bischoff, que rom-pió a llorar cuando se leyó el verdicto. Bischoff, que tiene 29 años de edad, no dió señales de emoción.

El aviador joven, a quien se ha conocido en el barrio de los corrales de ganado, primero como moralizador de muchachos, y lue-go como el "Ponny" del petróleo, estaba sentado enfrente del "Bailiff" Bufo, tomando notas y escribiendo atentamente a los últimos testigos de cargo, que relataron lo de las promesas de diques, que nunca llegaron a cumplirse. Le cuando en cuando hablaba al oído a su defensor.

Manifesta Bischoff que "la política" hizo que sus negocios fueran a dar a manos de un síndico.
El desfale total de Bischoff, cuando vino el veredicto en 1922, se estimó en $4,500,000.

El reo se fue a Los Angeles y vivió bajo nombre falso, hasta que fue descubierto, hace dos meses y traído a Chicago.

Varias de las personas asociadas con él quedaron convictas de fraude y sentenciadas a prisión o multa.

BUSY SEASON FACES VALLEY

Association Announces Scale of Wages

Immense Cotton Acreage to be Planted

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FRESNO, April 1.—With 100,000 acres of cotton to be taken care of in addition to the immense fruit and other crops during the coming harvest season, the San Joaquin Valley faces a prospect of an acute labor shortage, according to a statement issued by directors of the Valley Fruit Growers' Association, an organization which provides labor for growers of the valley.

To combat this possibility the directors of the association have fixed wage scales for agricultural labor this season at a slight advance over a number of other farm sections of the state, but virtually on a par with last year's scale in the San Joaquin.

All general ranch labor will be paid $1.75 per day and board or 30 cents an hour without board; tractor men, $2.50 per day and board, or $3.50 per day without board; married ranch hands, $70 to $80 per month and house.

There is ample farm labor to care for present needs, Alban E. Wray, secretary of the association, announced, but when crops begin to mature in the late summer it is considered doubtful if the association can supply the demand for labor.

CANDIDATE FOR COUNCIL AT
RESIGNATION

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENT)
SAN BERNARDINO, April 1.—Running for office is a job at which a candidate needs both his legs, believes W. E. Daimwood, who a week ago announced his candidacy for the City Council from the Second Ward.

On Friday, Daimwood fell from the scaffolding of a home which he is erecting and sustained a broken leg. Even on crutches, a candidate must run and the task is too severe, Daimwood concluded. Today he wrote City Clerk John H. Osborne:

"Owing to the serious misfortune which I suffered in the injury to my leg, therefore making it impossible for me to make the campaign, I respectfully request that you withdraw my name from the city ballot."

J. W. Catlock, twice Mayor of the city, and Councilman W. H. Rogers so far have sustained no intimacies to their legs and are still running.

Well Digger Dies After Serious Accident at Upland

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
UPLAND, April 1.—Lee Linder, 57 years of age, a well digger, who was seriously injured Monday when a bucket in which he and Robert Beard, age 35, were descending a 360-foot well, fell a distance of sixty feet to the bottom, died shortly before noon today at the San Antonio Community Hospital.

Death is said to have been due to cerebral hemorrhage. Linder also suffered a fractured right leg, cuts and bruises and probable internal injuries. The cause of the safety catch on the cable to which the bucket was attached was not responsible for the accident.

Beard escaped with lesser injuries and his condition is reported favorable. Linder is survived by his widow and two daughters. An inquest over the body is to be held tomorrow at Draper's mortuary. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

INGLEWOOD, April 1.—More fragments of bone from a mastodon that succumbed to the inevitable 10,000 or 15,000 years ago were brought to light here today as the result of heavy rainfall that disclosed the fossilized remains to the eyes of workers at the Hill street near Hillside avenue.

Another find was a tooth, more than three inches long and in a perfect state of preservation. The fragments were disclosed in the same location of those unearthed about ten days ago and which have been examined by experts from the Los Angeles Museum.

PASADENA, April 1.—The war on secret societies in Pasadena High School broke out afresh today when George Richardson, a student, was suspended from school for the remainder of the year by William F. Ewing, the high school principal. Richardson, it is said, confessed to being a member of a secret society in violation of the state law.

It has been known that Richardson belonged to a fraternity for some time, it is said. He was not expelled from school because school authorities were conducting an investigation to learn the names of other students who were violating the law. Richardson, it is said, refused to divulge information pertaining to the organization to which he belonged.

Women Evade Officers Waiting at

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN DIEGO, April 1.—Prompt action by San Diego police in stopping entry into this country of undesirable women from Tia Juana yesterday is believed to have caused many of them to seek other points of entry along the international border. The Tia Juana police are said to have released upon their promise to leave the city at once.

Approximately 150 women of the Tia Juana underworld are said to be affected by an order issued by Gov. Rodrigues that they must qualify as "entertainers" and secure a license, or leave the territory.

How many of the women obtained licenses had not been learned today. A clarification regarding the order of Gov. Rodrigues, under which the women were being released, was given by the police to the press.

They were met at Exeter yesterday morning by Col. John R. White, superintendent of Sequoia and General Grant National Parks, and William Austin, engineer of road construction in the parks. The heavy rainstorms prevented their going beyond Alder Creek, park headquarters. By means of a stereopticon lecture, which Col. White gave at his forest home, the guests were permitted to view the beauties of the Sequoia and General Grant National Parks.

The winding highway to Three Rivers and its immediate connection with the Sequoia Park, leading to the Sequoia Park, its accessibility with comfort were also discussed.

When members of the Tucker household returned to their home after the fire, they found a small amount of cash missing. Footprints of the intruders were followed for some distance through an orange grove and the defendants were overtaken and placed under arrest.

The fact that the brush having been used on the face of a small daughter of the household, contained blond hairs, led to the two men who had it. Footprints of the intruders were followed for some distance through an orange grove and the defendants were overtaken and placed under arrest.

Some months ago the war on Greek letter societies was opened by the students themselves. They denounced their fellow students who held memberships in secret societies.

How many of the women obtained licenses had not been learned today. A clarification regarding the order of Gov. Rodrigues, under which the women were being released, was given by the police to the press.

They were met at Exeter yesterday morning by Col. John R. White, superintendent of Sequoia and General Grant National Parks, and William Austin, engineer of road construction in the parks. The heavy rainstorms prevented their going beyond Alder Creek, park headquarters. By means of a stereopticon lecture, which Col. White gave at his forest home, the guests were permitted to view the beauties of the Sequoia and General Grant National Parks.

The winding highway to Three Rivers and its immediate connection with the Sequoia Park, leading to the Sequoia Park, its accessibility with comfort were also discussed.

STATE TAKES OVER IMPORTANT-HIGHWAY

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TULARE, April 1.—Reported approval by the State Assembly of the bill declaring the Tulare-Goshen road a State highway is received with considerable satisfaction here. Tulare County Supervisors prepared a resolution some months ago asking the State Highway Commission to take over and maintain this nine-mile stretch of county highway, the county agreed first to place it in first-class condition, this since having been done.

This road was built and maintained by the county and as such was not marked on maps as a State highway, although it is on the main line of travel north and south. The highway between Tulare and Visalia was built by the State, maintained and improved by the county.

The bill will still have to be approved by the Senate.

BUSINESS PACE
SLOW IN MARCHImprovement Lags Behind ExpectationsMany Unfavorable Factors Retard ProgressIndustry, Trade Activity Satisfactory

The outstanding feature of the month in business, says the current number of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, has been the realization that conditions have not improved as rapidly or to the extent that had generally been anticipated in the fall and early winter, and this has had a temporary depressing effect, which has been reflected in the stock market.

Other unfavorable factors, according to this review, have been the reversion for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company; the development in the Senate of opposition to the administration which has led to the apprehension that it may be difficult for the President to put through his program. This, it is thought, may have particular bearing on tax and railroad legislation. Reports of reduced earnings by the United States Steel Corporation and other steel companies, and decreased earnings by some of the railroads, notably the Union Pacific have likewise been adverse influences, it is pointed out.

INDUSTRY ACTIVE

"But, despite these retarding factors," the survey says, "industry and trade in most lines continue at comparatively high levels of activity, and the maintenance of production and distribution at about present rates or better is indicated. The wave of extreme optimism that swept over the country after the Presidential election has passed, giving way to a more conservative attitude. Nevertheless, the favorable conditions underlying the recent expansion apparently remain dominant. Production in basic industries is well sustained. Building activity was nearly equal to that reported last year.

"Continuance of a large physical volume of trade is evidenced by the seasonal record in freight-car loadings during the first ten weeks of the year. The average daily number of loadings last month was greater than in the preceding month or in February a year ago. Current reports of retailers indicate an active movement of goods into consumers' hands. Department-store sales in February were only slightly smaller than a year earlier, while the business of mail-order houses and ten-cent chain stores was about 11 per cent larger. With due allowance for normal growth, these figures indicate a volume of trade for the country as a whole approximately equal to that of a year ago.

CREDIT STAYS SAME

"The advance of the discount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York from 2 to 2 1/2 per cent on February 27, was not interpreted as an indication of any marked change in the general credit situation. The 3 per cent rate was lower than the rates of the other Federal reserve banks, and since its adoption last August outside rates had risen moderately. The outlook of gold was considerably less last month than in January. In December, when the first movement of exports in more than four years occurred, the net outward movement of the metal was $23,400,000. In January it was $28,500,000, and in February $47,300,000.

"The extent of the possible need abroad for gold now in this country is necessarily quite indefinite. How much of the metal may actually be sent out will depend upon the rate at which currency redemption in particular countries may be undertaken, upon debt expansion and repayment, competitive price levels, etc. The redistribution of gold will probably be gradual in any event, and it should constitute no menace to our own national economy."

NEW YORK BONDS

Recovery Continues
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, April 1.—Bond prices turned upward again today in response to a further recovery in the stock market and indications that the stiffening of money rates would be only temporary. A strong underling demand for various French obligations and domestic railroad and industrial issues lifted prices 1 to 2 points.

The recovery in French issues took place in the face of a break in the franc which resulted from reports that the government was considering an increase of 5,000,000 francs in note circulation to relieve the currency money stringency. Bonds appeared to be little affected by the announcement, although they closed slightly below the highest levels of the day.

Independent strength was shown by a number of industrial issues. A varied demand for rail bonds embraced Seaboard refunding 4s, Frisco income 6s, Missouri Pacific 4s, Rock Island General 4s and Chicago and Alton 3 1/2s, which averaged 1 to 2 points higher.

NEW YORK, April 1. — Constructive forces were again at work in today's stock market, which displayed a strong undertone, with the volume of trading the smallest of any full-day session since election day.

Fresh buying power was attributed to the recovery in wheat prices, the easing of call money rate and the growing speculative belief that the bottom of the present reaction was reached in Monday's drastic decline.

Motors gave an impressive demonstration of group strength with buying influenced by reports that bankers had acquired complete control of Dodge Brothers by payment of an enormous cash sum, which was construed as an indication of the financial confidence in the motor industry.

HUNT LEADERS IN SLAVE PLOT

Police Investigate Clue to Vice Ring

Parents Charge Attempts to Lure Daughters

Blond Woman Quizzed as Suspected Decoy

Investigation into what the police juvenile authorities believe may lead to the exposure of a white-slave ring operating in Los Angeles and Tia Juana, was begun yesterday by operatives from the police department and the District Attorney's office, following reports from parents that efforts had been made to lure their daughters to the resort below the border.

It also developed that a young blond woman had been taken into custody Tuesday after she had attempted to surreptitiously meet a young girl in a downtown department store without the girl's mother knowing of it. The woman was questioned at the police station and before she was released, and is understood still to be under surveillance.

GIRLS RAN AWAY
According to juvenile officer Mrs. Shriver, the complaint against the woman was made by the mother of 15-year-old Lila Becker, 2165 Angus street, Lila, accompanied by another girl of her own age, it was declared by the officers, ran away from home some time ago and went to Tia Juana, where they found work in a combination dance hall and saloon. While there they are said to have made the acquaintance of a Mexican by the name of I. De La Pena, asserted ex-convict and said to be wanted for embezzlement.

The woman, who was questioned by the police authorities, was alleged to have been corresponding with De La Pena, and that he had questioned her about the girls. Her explanation of why she sought to meet the Becker girl secretly, the juvenile officers declared, was vague.

MOTHERS WILL APPEAR
City Prosecutor Friedman also questioned the woman, but suggested that the case be turned over to the District Attorney's office, which was done yesterday. It is understood that the mothers of the girls will appear in the office of Dep. Dist. Atty. Woodhead this morning, and may sign a complaint.

ABDUCTORS OF DRUGGED GIRL HUNTED

Search for the young girl kidnapped late Tuesday night from a drug store at Fifty-eighth street and Central avenue, where she had been taken in a drugged condition, was centered last night in the underworld haunts known to be frequented by drug addicts and peddlers.

Detectives engaged in the search under the personal direction of Inspector of Detectives Chapman, expressed conviction that the mysterious girl had been abducted by drug addicts and that she was being held a prisoner by them.

A slender lead to the girl's identity came in a phone call from a woman who stated that from general description, the girl may be her daughter. She stated that her daughter had fled from home about five months ago because she had been refused consent to marry the man of her choice.

The woman refused to give her name and the detective last night was seeking to trace the phone call.

The girl was found wandering in the street in a dazed condition by Mr. and Mrs. Boyson of 754 East Vernon avenue. They took her in their machine to the drug store. There operatives were given her and she had partially revived when two men walked in, lifted her bodily from the car, ran out to their car, and fled.

The girl was described as being about 17 years of age, five feet in height and weighing about 120 pounds. She was fashionably attired in a blue dress and coat.

OLD LAW MAY END CAPPING

Investigation Suggested Into Solicitation of Marrying Business Near License Bureau

A grand jury investigation of asserted capping outside the Marriage License Bureau was suggested yesterday when County Counsel Bishop discovered an old ruling of his office that taking of fees by judicial officers for performing marriages constitutes a misdemeanor.

In the meantime, Chairman McClellan of the Board of Supervisors talked with a number of county employees believed to have knowledge of the capping custom, and said that he will have a report ready for the Board of Supervisors on Monday. The chairman said he is not ready to disclose what his investigation has shown. The County Counsel's opinion is based on a section of the code which prohibits a judicial officer from receiving any fee for reward black slippers and gray stockings.

GIRL, HOME ALONE, FIGHTS DEGENERATE

Police yesterday were searching for the "black satchel" fender who, posing as a plumber, has entered numerous homes during the afternoon in the absence of older persons for the purpose of molesting children. Several of whom said to have narrowly escaped harm.

The man hunt was renewed with doubled energy yesterday following the report of Mrs. Hilda Harding of 1017 1-2 Leighton avenue that her 15-year-old daughter, Virginia, barely escaped from the degenerate who entered her home in the absence of the girl's parents. Carrying the black satchel and representing himself to be a plumber, the man entered the Harding home through the rear door. After prowling through the house, he came upon the little girl, whom he grabbed and broke away, running into the yard. Her screams attracted neighbors who saw the man flee.

The fiend is described as about five feet, nine inches tall, 160 pounds in weight, an American, shabbily dressed.

The search is being conducted by a special detail assigned to the case by Inspector Chapman.

SHIRKER OF DUTY IN PAY OF CITY HIT

Council Adopts Stricter Rule Governing Absence on Sick Leave

The City Council yesterday adopted stricter rules for city employees who obtain leaves of absence on the plea of sickness, as the result of a communication received by the health and sanitation committee from City Health Commissioner Parrish.

The Council directed that henceforth dismissal will be the penalty for evasion of duty by a sickness certificate, and directed that such certificates be certified by the Health Department.

Dr. Parrish stated that it was a custom among employees to obtain a doctor's certificate and thus secure a leave of absence, drawing three-quarters pay for the first two weeks, and half pay for the next four weeks, then to return to work for a week and start the same thing over again.

"When a number of employees are afflicted with these ailments, all are off duty at the same time, the department is badly crippled," wrote Dr. Parrish. Councilmen Mallard and Allan of the committee, recommended that henceforth an employee who obtained a leave of absence when in the opinion of the head of the department, his illness did not justify it, would be subject to dismissal.

The city cannot carry insurance for the dishonest acts of employees," the report concluded.

SOUTHLAND LURE WINS PRODUCER

Kemper, Theatrical Man, Decides to Make Winter Home in Beverly Hills

The lure of California has been felt by one of the best-known theatrical producers. Colin Kemper, of Wagonwheels & Kemper, after spending two months in Southern California, has definitely decided to make his winter home in Beverly Hills, where he has purchased a tract of several acres. Such past successes as "Seven Days," "Paid in Full" and "The Bat" have reaped a rich harvest for this firm and Kemper has now reached the stage where he wants to enjoy life. At the Biltmore yesterday he stated:

"I expect to be back early in the fall and to take up a permanent residence. It is possible that I may do some producing. I believe that California is in the blood of the nation and any play dealing with California would draw its all over the country. It would like to take R. D. MacLean back to New York. He is a great actor and I regard his characterization of Fra Serra in the Mission Play as a classic. I was amazed when both Mr. McGroarty and Mr. MacLean stated that they were unwilling to leave, but now I begin to understand it."

Mr. Kemper, accompanied by his wife and son, will leave today on the Coast Star for Los Angeles. The Grand Canyon will go directly to New York.

WIFE AVERS MATE'S LOVE WAS STOLEN

"Dotty from Wheeling"

A certain "Dotty from Wheeling" fished the love of James A. Stone from his wife, Margaret Stone, according to her complaint for divorce, which came to light yesterday when she appeared before Judge Galt seeking alimony pending trial of her suit.

"I will make her my common law wife," Stone asserted, the complaint recited.

At the alimony hearing Mrs. Stone's counsel tried to get Stone to admit that he had married a new woman in a Union-avenue apartment-house with a new love, since his separation from Margaret. But the husband denied this implication vigorously. He was ordered to pay $17 a week alimony.

Follies Star Coming Home for Vacation

Ernest Belcher, ballet master of the Celeste School of Dancing, will welcome home to Los Angeles on Sunday his beautiful daughter, Lina Basquette, prima ballerina of the Ziegfeld Follies, who is coming here for a month's vacation.

Miss Basquette, who is heralded by New York dancing critics as the greatest classical toe dancer that America ever produced, will be here at the same time as Gilda Gray, the greatest exponent of jazz dancing, who is appearing at a local theater. Lina, however, will appear in an engagement with her. She will rest and spend part of her time learning from Belcher a few new steps to take back with her to New York.

Belcher taught her classical dancing at an early age, and when she was twelve years of age she was signed under contract by Carl Laemmle, producer of Universal pictures. At 13 she went to New York to join a Broadway show and won such phenomenal success that she became one of the principals in the cast of the Follies. She is now 17 years old.

Miss Basquette will arrive Sunday and will be met by several hundred admirers at the Santa Fe depot. This is her first vacation since she left Los Angeles almost four years ago.

Complaint Filed Recalls Early Gold Days Here

An echo of the early gold-mining days when claim jumping was heard yesterday when O. P. Joyner of Barstow was the plaintiff in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist. Atty. Joos of attempting to extort property from W. B. and Cal. Guirre, also of the Barstow district.

According to the complaint, Joyner wrote a letter to the McGuire representative that he had been accused of claim jumping and threatened them with arrest if they did not give him a quitclaim deed to two claims, known as the Yellow Rose and Lucky Dog mining properties near Barstow.

The matter was brought to the attention of the City Prosecutor here originally, who caused an investigation to be made. The complaint was then filed on testimony of Detective Lieutenant Burgess of the local police.

Joyner is not under arrest, but is being sought by deputy sheriffs. It is stated.

Asserted Victims Charge "Intensifier" Agency Beat Them Out of $25,000

A complaint charging M. K. Schachter, believed by the police to be a New York bunko operator, with grand larceny by trick and device was issued yesterday at the District Attorney's office while at the City Prosecutor's office an additional complaint was filed charging him and two other men with being bunko operators under the vagrancy statute.

Schachter and the other men had been operating a salesroom at 208 1/2 East Fifth street, the reputed local headquarters of the "High Tension Corporation of America," manufacturers of an automobile ignition "Intensifier." The organization, officials of the District Attorney's and City Prosecutor's offices stated, was nothing more than a blind for bunko operations.

The grand larceny complaint was sworn to by V. Speranco, 1339 1/2 South San Pedro street, who asserted he had lost $25,000 to Schachter through the purchase of three gross of the "Intensifiers" and which were to have been delivered at a notorious garage in San Diego.

Statements taken from several sources by Deputy City Prosecutors Friedman and Beam indicated that numerous persons have been defrauded of various sums, aggregating $150,000, by the operation of Schachter and his associates.

Families in every Walk of Life are adding VEGEX to the Daily Diet

One of the things wrong with our diet is that most kitchens are far away from the farms and ranches that supply our foods. By the time the foods are on the table, much of their goodness has been left at the mill, or in the canning plant. This is especially true of the loss of essential food salts and vitamins.

That Vitamin B is indispensable to normal nutrition at all ages is proved by leading food research scientists. It is a fact that the richest known source of Vitamin B is VEGEX—a concentrate of grain-grown yeast. VEGEX also contains iron, iodine and other essential food salts, thus a diet to which VEGEX is added, restores to our daily foods many of the elements lost in their preparation.

Try VEGEX. Its taste is delicious, meaty though purely vegetable. Vegetable soup with VEGEX is a wonderful dish. With milk it makes a blague that appeals to the family. Use it to bring out the flavor of other dishes—salads, stews, gravies—and as a spread with butter or cheese for bread or crackers.

Racing Pilot Takes License to Wed Heiress

Plumber James Gardner, whom racing fans will recognize as Jimmy Gardner, castor-oil-burner pilot, took a partner yesterday from the films. She is Onita Bolling Moreno, said to be an Oklahoma oil heiress.

The ceremony was performed by Judge Collier in Superior Court and the couple announced their intention of going east for the honeymoon. The marriage, they said, was the culmination of a school-girl-and-boy romance.

When they obtained their marriage license Gardner said it was his first and gave his age as 27. The bride-to-be gave her age as 26 and said she had been married once and divorced. She declined to give the name of her first husband, who is the daughter, she said, of Walter F. Bolling. They gave the same address, 1223 North Garfield avenue.

THE RESCUE OF BILLY PIGEON

Tragedy in One Act. Cast: Billy, a Fledgling; Billy's Mother; the Rat; the Neat; the Fireman. Scene: Ledge Above Sidewalk Where Billy Sought Adventure

Most all day yesterday little Billy Pigeon's feet were cold and his bed of feathers and straw was all slimy and sticky and he was sore at the world in general. He was hungry too, and his mother didn't come when he cried for her. And to add to all his other troubles, the nice, warm, yellow light that had kept him comfortable and happy ever since his birth, had gone away and instead a whole cloudburst was rolling down his eavestrough home. So little Billy went adventuring.

And so it came about that Spring street was the scene of still another drama, heretofore horror, humor and pathos, near-tragedy and mother-love and sacrifice and charity unrivaled and which yet passed unnoticed by most all the treading thousands. Billy Pigeon wasn't much to look at as he strutted forth from this home of his in the eaves of a Spring street store. Just sprouting his first crop of pinfeathers, he was, and they were plastered close to his skin. And Billy looked very awkward standing there half-naked; but he didn't seem to feel ashamed.

WORLD HIS OYSTER
Instead, his eyes were the gleam of a Columbus; the world was his oyster and he felt infinitely better outside than in; potential danger was not in his lexicon.

He balanced for a moment on the eaves' edge and looked downward into the busy street. Was that his mother on the lamp post just below, scanning the busy pavement for the oats which once were plentiful but which now are more than scarce? It was so. Billy, putting his bedraggled vest a teeny bit, stepped nonchalantly from the eavestrough with all the confidence of an ancient proud of their ability to scale cerulean heights. But Billy didn't soar. A friendly ledge just a few feet down caught him and held him. And like any other hurt baby, he lay there plaintively whimpering. His mother heard him and came like a flash from down below. She looked him over, and plainly puzzled on what to do, flew upward to the nest.

OH, THE RAT!
Came tragedy. Like a sinister shadow a manny rat crept slowly from a hole in the tinny surface of the ledge where Billy lay. And with his beady, eyes set steadily on his victim he began a slow and stealthy crawl along its surface. Often his whiskers twitched in anticipation; this marauding, merciless, Mephistopheles planned an early, tender supper of squab on tin.

Just then came the mother. And mother-love made an eagle of a pigeon. She swooped down once. What happened watchers couldn't see. But evidently she inflicted pain, for the rat grew angry. No more did he care for Billy; he was busy thinking of himself. He couldn't run, for the ledge was not wide enough to turn around. He did the next best thing—fought.

A newsboy in a ragged shirt and too large trousers had watched it all from down below. And when that mother bird came swooping into danger for her child, he took a hand. Laying down his pile of papers near the curb he grabbed the rotting drainpipe and swarmed upward. At the ledge he paused and pulled a wooden ruler from his shirt front. One motion—and the rat was dying in the middle of the street. A breath-taking lunge—and little Billy Pigeon had been rescued. Did the boy stop here? He did not. Up he went until he reached the cornice and then the roof. A miniature human fly he made. Ten seconds later Billy had been dropped to safety in his nest.

THE REWARD
By rights this story ended there. And yet—

The boy, returning via fire escape for his papers, found them a bedraggled, muddy mass. A passing truck, dashing through the rain-filled gutter, had badly splashed them.

One by one he picked them up; there were a dozen. He tore up one and tried to make the others cleaner with it; but the mess grew worse. And then—grimy flat dug deep into his pocket; he wiped a tear drop that came somehow from nowhere. He hadn't performed his daily deed of good and instead of praise the Fates had done a dirty trick to him!

Just then a heavy hand descended on his shoulder. A man in blue—but not a cop; a city fireman who watched that climb.

A word or two; and then the flash of silver and the boy's eyes were as round as the dollar he viewed. And from the window of his office just across the street, Jack Friedlander, City Prosecutor, turned and said: "The world is not a failure when such men exist!"

SUSPECT IN ROBBERY OF PAIR TAKEN

Arrest in Bay City May Solve $15,000 Hold-up of Last January

The $15,000 robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Herman, 1481 Havenhurst avenue, on January 26, last, was believed cleared up last night when Detective Lieutenants Barry and Shammo left for San Francisco to bring back James Doyle, who is under arrest there. A telegram from the San Francisco police declared that Doyle had been identified positively as one of the robbers by both Mr. and Mrs. Herman, who happened to be visiting the Bay City.

The arrest of Doyle, the wire said, brought about the recovery also of a fur coat taken in the robbery. Doyle is declared to have given the coat to a young woman. After the robbery, Detective Lieutenants Barry and Shammo arrested J. W. Thomson on suspicion of being connected with the robbery. Thomson was subsequently held to answer another charge, according to Assistant Captain Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman were robbed by two armed men as they were about to place their car in their garage late at night. The men slipped Mrs. Herman's coat from her shoulders and stripped the rings from her fingers, also helping themselves to her husband's money and jewelry. A portion of the plunder has been recovered, but there are several valuable diamonds still missing, according to the police.

HICKEY CASE UP TO GRAND JURY TODAY

Verdict at Inquest Finds Wife and Child Met Death at Officer's Hands

A coroner's jury, at the inquest yesterday into the murder of Mrs. Irene Hickey and her 2-year-old son, found that mother and child met death at the hands of Patrolman James J. Hickey as the climax to a family quarrel in which the officer was the aggressor. Immediately after the return of the verdict, Assistant Captain of Detectives Bean announced that the case will be placed before the grand jury today, with a request that an indictment for murder be issued against Hickey at once.

Funeral services for the victims of the tragedy will be conducted at 8:30 a.m. today at the Highland Park mortuary, and mass will be said for them at the Sacred Heart Church at 9 a.m.

The tragic murder of his grandson and daughter-in-law and the arrest of his son as their slayer has caused a complete breakdown on the part of Detective Lieutenant Jerry Hickey, father of the asserted slayer. He is in a serious condition at his home, it was stated.

CROSS WORDS

Cross-word puzzles are said to improve the vocabulary. Hardly. They inspire the use of too many words which are no improvement to any vocabulary.

PLENTY OF IT

We only got 1,000,000 pounds of ginger from Jamaica last year, but if we are to measure the jazz and foam in the country it must have been double strength.

THE TEXAS WAY

The Texans have found that, although they voted for Ma Ferguson for Governor, they have Ma Ferguson to deal with when they have business at the Capitol. But Texas is a huge State and can easily use a couple of Governors at one time.

THE IOWA IDEA

The Iowa Senate has killed a bill which was directed at the bootleggers. The measure was in the nature of a blacklist and provided for the "mugging" of all persons arrested for violations of the Volstead Act.
Possibly the Senators thought that it might also serve to advertise some of the contra-bandists.

UP IN THE AIR

Henry Ford has soaring aspirations.
Now he is building a line of steel Pullmans for the air service. The planes are capable of carrying eight passengers each. Should Henry enter into quantity production of airships along the lines of his highway service the heavens may some day be so cluttered up with angels that St. Peter won't have room to swing a harp.

BOOKS FOR THE BOOKLESS

A drive will soon be made for the purpose of supplying or reinforcing service libraries on the various ships in the mercantile marine operating out of this port.
Officers and crews may have considerable time for helpful reading, but libraries on traders are few and small. Many books might be gathered up in Los Angeles homes and placed where they would be of wonderful value and entertainment.

USERS OF GAS

Over 400,000,000 cubic feet of gas was used in this country last year, yet there are those alive today who can recall when the gas jet found its first use in the home and on the highway. Since then the greater glory provided by the electric current has almost made the gas light superfluous. However, as a convenient and economical agency for keeping the home fires burning, gas will continue in favor for many a day.

THANK YOU KINDLY

Los Angeles district is virtually the only one in the revenue service that shows a substantial gain in collections, in spite of wholesale reductions in income-tax rates.
The collections for the year just ended, as reported from the Los Angeles office, were, in round numbers, $48,000,000, which is almost $12,000,000 ahead of the receipts for the previous year. Reductions from the tax schedules of 1920 would call for a lessening of nearly $10,000,000 in the collections, but the increase in wealth and population not only made up this amount, but sent the receipts much higher. Citizens in Southern California seem to be able to sit up and take considerable nourishment.

SERVING HIS COUNTRY

The dean of the Illinois Assembly has been in legislative halls for more than twenty-five years and in all that time has presented but twelve bills for consideration.
Most of these have been party or committee measures, not originating with himself. Yet he is considered one of the most valuable men in the State. His capacity for spotting improper or dangerous legislation is phenomenal. He has become the official footlight of the Assembly—although a member of the minority party. It isn't the man who can devise the most legislation, but the one who can kill off the most, who serves his country best. Time shows that the less legislation the people have the better they prosper and enjoy themselves.

THE DEEPEST HOLE

Where is the deepest hole in the ground? Some folks think we have it right here in Los Angeles, where lots of the drillers have sunk their gimlets for more than a mile. But there are mine shafts as deep as that. Just now Brazil claims to have the deepest puncture the old earth knows. The St. John del Ray mine in the State of Minas Geraes has recently been deepened to a level of 6800 feet below the surface. This is a gold mine, but it also produces silver and arsenic. It dates back to the time of the Portuguese occupation of Brazil, but for the last ninety years has been in the hands of a British company and as late as last year nearly $2,500,000 worth of the precious metal was taken out.
The mine is the mainstay of a city of 12,000 inhabitants and there are nearly 3000 employees of the company itself.

SEEING GHOSTS

To the letter box of The Times come many curious communications. The most common fault is that the writer argues sincerely from a false premise. One lesson which experience teaches is that sincerity is no adequate test of verity. Many of the tragedies in the life of peoples and of governments are occasioned by a sincere belief in something that is not true.

Most of the definitions of truth and falsehood reduce themselves to this: Truth is that which is not false; and falsehood is that which is not true. But who is to be the final arbiter as to what is false and what is true?

Representative government is founded on the principle that that is just which the majority of the people hold to be just and that is false which the majority of people hold to be false. To this rule there are many exceptions; but, as human nature is prone to err, no better system of discrimination has yet been discovered.

From time to time majorities recognize their errors and correct them, and it is through its mistakes that the world progresses. It takes the wrong road much often than the right, but every generation takes a few faltering steps forward, and that is progress.

A common error committed by those living under representative government is to refuse to obey a law which does not appeal to them as just. They refuse to accept the opinion and the will of the majority and set their personal opinion in opposition to that of the majority of the community; and in this they are within their right; but, if they proceeded to violate every law which they do not consider just and every one of their neighbors did the same law would be replaced by anarchy.

Believers in sovietism consider it no crime to take possession of the property of another. For them there is no theft, for individual possession of any material thing is to them unjust. If those holding this belief were permitted to rob their neighbors with impunity our present community life would be destroyed. Another may not believe that the community has a right to enact and enforce traffic legislation. He may argue that the streets are free and each should be permitted to use them in his own way. But, if the activities of all believing this were to be unrestrained, traffic in congested districts would become far more deadly than at present.

Under the caption "Seeing Ghosts" The Times today publishes one of the letters in question. The sincerity of the writer is evident, but he is a sincere believer in a false theory. The letter begins, "The more one thinks of that stupendous doctrine, one thinks of the law regardless of its wisdom, affirming thus the shameful principle of slavery, may I ask what The Times and the University of Southern California and the prohibitionists also what they would do if such laws as the following were passed:

"Property being robbery (there is no need to prove it) the property of The Times, of the university as well as all other properties shall be confiscated without even compensation.

"Would The Times and the university submit to such a law?"

Perhaps the writer considered this a poser. But the answer is simple. If the Constitution of the United States were to be replaced by some Communist charter which permitted such injustice and should the representatives of the people of California and Los Angeles pass such a law, The Times and the university, if still in existence—which they very probably would not be—would offer no physical resistance to carrying it into effect.

But the question is based on an assumption similar to that of asking an orange-grower what he would do with his oranges if the trees in his orchard began to bear crabapples.

The right of property is guaranteed by the Constitution; and while the government possesses the power to enforce the Constitution, no confiscation of property can take place. The majority possesses the power, through its representatives, to amend the Constitution. But, to the present time, the majority has been possessed of a sufficient sense of justice not to approve laws which make life intolerable to that majority. For the minorities, which do not believe in the existing laws two methods of redress are open to them: they can campaign for the repeal of the laws that seem to them unjust or they can migrate to other states where such laws are not in effect.

Yet it would be well for the writer of this letter, and others similarly minded, to reflect that, despite what they consider unjust laws, we have been compelled to pass stringent immigration restrictions to prevent enough people coming here from states where no such laws are in effect to overrun the whole country.

A MENACING WAR LORD

That there should be such a scramble for the post of American Minister to Peking, as is reported from Washington, shows that politicians have little terror of mixing up in bellicose affairs in a foreign country. There has been peace in China for a short interval, but now that bullying Manchurian war lord, Chang Tso Lin, is at it again. Chang, who lately had been reported as friendly to the Christian general, Feng-Hsiang, and, indeed, had helped him to seat the Marshal Tuan as head of the present de facto government, has become disaffected, as it is about time to expect him to be, and declares that he will no longer stand for a Christian rule of affairs at Peking. He is said to be massing his forces and getting ready to seize the reins of government in his own big, brawny hands.

Gen. Chang is a large man with large influence, though known to be a bit uncertain in the matter of his allegiance to the side, whatever it may be, with which he casts his lot. He is said to have amassed a large fortune in Manchuria as the result of his raids in Northern China. For a long time he was reported to be in the pay of the Japanese government, his salary being $50,000 a year. Just how long he might be able to hold Peking if he stormed it successfully is doubtful, but one thing is certain, judging from his history, he would lose nothing in a material way by such a conquest, for, even though forced to vacate, he would march off with rich spoils.

Whoever gets the post of Minister from this country will have his work cut out for him, for, not only is Peking again likely to

GETTING READY

It has been ascertained that Bolsheviki caused the recent great strike of textile factory hands in Shanghai and that soviet Russia backed the strikers. Thirty thousand of these strikers recently held a mass demonstration in that city and in a clash with the police a number of them were injured. The soviet provided the striking workmen with funds through one of the universities, which tends to prove the statement that Young China of the colleges is joining hands with the Communists.
Twenty cents a day was paid to each striker for his maintenance.

The hand of soviet Russia also is being felt in the schools of China. The Ruskys Golov, a newspaper representing the mon-archist element of the local Russian population, says that the appointment of one Ustrialoff as manager of the educational department of the Chinese Eastern Railway is resulting in "the enforcement of the soviet program of moral and physical degeneration in the schools." The experienced pedagogical staff has been dismissed to make room for the Bolsheviki.

The Christian general, Feng, is said to be suffering from an incurable malady, which is unfortunate, considering the disaffection of Chang and his evident intention to work mischief at Peking. Feng has retired to Kaigan for a rest. Kaigan is close to Peking, however, and, if he is able to do so, Feng will guard Marshal Tuan and see to it that the ambitious war lord does not unseat him.

Permanent peace in China seems a long way off.

THE MOORS AGAIN

In repeating Irish history very frequently says very uncomfortable facts.
Just now the sleep of thousands of the descendants of the generation of Ferdinand and Isabella is disturbed by visions of a return of the expelled Moors. For thirteen years Spain has engaged in an intermittent warfare on the African coast and, during that period, the Moroccans have been pushing forward and the Spaniards flinching.

Just now there is considerable concern expressed in the part of the Spanish press that escapes the censor over what the end will be. The following extract is from a recent leading article in Hispania, a Madrid publication:

What is our position today? Worse than ever, strategically speaking. [It occurs to The Times that ever covers a long period.] The so-called Primo de ment. This is inevitable, because he has refused all the overtures of Primo in the colonial wars of the world is threatening Spain and Morocco. It is a happen.

Just About It
By James J. Montague

HOPELESS

I long for the day when the masculine sex
No more will appear on the street, In invisible stripes and uncolorful checks, Whose hues are sedate and discreet.
I yearn for the time when a man can be seen,
As work-ward he daily parades,
In lilac or carnine or poppy or green,
And all the new-seasonal shades.

As a wee wistful child I shed many a tear, Whenever I sternly was told That when I grew up I could never appear In raiment like Joseph's of old.
I wanted a coat at which horses should shy,
And I wanted a cap for my head, Which would make people gasp when they saw be pass by—
And I wanted 'em purple and red.

And now, so I learn, it is soon to be smart For men to discard their plain clothes, And go to their business in suits that impart
The tinge of the jonquil and rose.
They will vary their costumes for city or shore, For spring and for summer and fall;
And office and courtroom and clubhouse and store Will look like a fancy dress ball.

And I—I shall go on the street every day And my optics I'll wistfully cast On the brilliant and vivid and bright-hued array Of men who go capering past.
I'll view all the shades that my tailor has piled In glorious ranks on his shelf, But I'll still be as sad as I was when a child, For I'll never dare wear them myself!

tion should be trying to stop the advance of Abd-el-Krim with overture of words in place of musketry and machine-gun fire.

An army of 150,000 Spanish troops appeals to one as a formidable force; and awakens the wonder how it comes that the infidels have been able to assemble and keep in the field a superior force. The Moors that the Spaniards are now fighting are fanatical. It is a holy war with them, and they take no prisoners. But has Spain become so weak that the generation of today cannot defend the territory its for-bears won?

Seeking for explanations, the one offering itself first is that Spain is weak because there is division in place of unity at home. Contradictory political forces have destroyed the devotion to country and to duty. The Moors were driven from the Iberian Peninsula because they became divided among themselves. There are indications that the Spaniards are wasting on internal dissension the force that should be used to repel the nation's enemies.

Great nations seldom fall except through

DECENT RESTRAINT

Bill Bulstrode is in bad condition; he has the itch and Spanish flu; but I am not a learned physician, so I don't tell him what to do. He comes and coughs and sneezes against my tree, but never does he hear me telling the way to cure a fall disease. If Bulstrode's hands were badly busted, so he could put no cheer-up airs, why then, I doubt I might be trusted to tell him how to make repairs. For I know all their flimsy and sharp; at times I am a wizard, I have solved a thousand harps. A poet's lyre is broken, no one does I leave unspoken, I talk for seven hours or more. But when a man has six diseases, including mumps and Spanish flu, I weep when he sneezes, but do not tell him what to do. And Bulstrode often says, "My good men's admonition drives me crazy. I'm afraid you are no cheap doctor, or upon the doctor's stately steps. You'll never know just what a man is until you have diseases full, and people say a faxseed politician uses your neck will make you better."

"Let every man pursue his calling," I say to Bulstrode; "that is what I let the taster do the baker's baker manufacture pies; let the doc heal those who want his mind is keen, his science is sound, I'd only make your pain the worse by telling of a certain cure."

Fortunate indeed is the business which is built upon a goodly foundation of faith. To have attained the spiritual vision of any desired object is a surety of power for projecting it as a material thing which shall endure. Radio brings home the truth to us daily, and every source of KHJ assists Uncle John in keeping the flames of faith shining and clear.

Last night was the second appearance of Henley and Scott, the Francisco and Los Angeles, fire and automobile general insurance agents for the Pacific Coast, Alaska and Hawaii. It is significant that this firm, which opened its offices last month at 115 Louisiana, Exchange Building, Ninth and Olive streets, with a KHJ radio party, should have returned to us again. It is the Los Angeles office, if you please, which is the heart of the organization, proving how strong an impression radio is leaving on the commercial life of the Southland.

REPRESENT SIX COMPANIES

Henley and Scott represent six companies—the Western Assurance Company, the Standard Insurance Company of New York, the Agricultural Insurance Company, Empire State Department, the Mechanical Insurance Company, the Manhattan Underwriters and the British General Insurance Company.

The artists last evening were some of the cream of our nearest and dearest studio family. They included Gladys Terrell, soprano; Harry C. Knox, flutist; Joseph Hugel, cellist; Mrs. Harry C. Knox, pianist; the Titan Trio, vocalists; Schellen and Schellen, manager; Marion Matthews, cellist; and Leah Wood, pianist; Harry C. Knox, monologist; and Grace Curry, harpist.

Harry C. Knox is always boosting the work of local composers and last evening, with Alice Lee Wiley at the piano, he gave a number which Mrs. Wiley had written and dedicated to Mr. Knox, entitled "Capriccio." The more Alice Lee Wiley writes the surer becomes her craftsmanship, and the more she is recognized as one of the more than his usual charm of melody and originality.

Mr. Knox gave the "Capriccio" a lively interpretation and also dedicated Radioland with several interesting modern numbers, accompanied by his gifted wife, whose support at the piano adds not a little to his fine work.

GLADYS TERRELL SINGS

Gladys Terrell has a flute-like quality in her tones, which was well shown in her performance of "Capriccio." The more she sings, the more she is recognized as one of the more than his usual charm of melody and originality.

Ex-Pozo Postmaster, Accused of Embezzlement, Is Traced by Letters to Family

Love of home and family led C. W. McDonald, former postmaster at Pozo, San Luis Obispo county, to inadvertently disclose his whereabouts to postoffice inspectors, who arrested him yesterday at Santa Monica on a charge of embezzling postoffice funds. McDonald is held in the County Jail under $1500 bond pending action of the Federal grand jury.

According to the Federal officers, McDonald appropriated nearly $400 of government funds last January. He disappeared after the money had been taken, the officers said, and was not located until it was learned he was sending money to his wife and two children. By tracing his letters, the postoffice inspectors found McDonald at Santa Monica, where, they said, he had been living "under cover."

The defendant waived hearing before United States Commissioner Turkey yesterday. He said he was prepared to plead guilty to the embezzlement charge. The postoffice inspectors said their investigations disclosed that McDonald had a record of honorable service in a tank corps during the World War. Following the war, they said, he went into the general merchandise business at Pozo, and at the same time served as postmaster. The asserted theft of government money occurred after creditors of McDonald attached his stock of merchandise, according to the officers.

PAY DAY OF COUNTY IS FOOLS' DAY

Unclassified Workers Go Checkless as Approval of List Fails

Yesterday was pay day for county employees in the civil service classifications, but just April Fool's day for several hundred unclassified workers, including those employed by the County Flood Control Department and piece workers in the County Recorder's office. This pay roll is customarily approved by the Board of Supervisors the last day of the month, but the board could not get a quorum together either Tuesday or yesterday for the following reasons:

Supervisor Cogswell is in Tulare visiting his grandchildren. Supervisor Woodley was out of town on business. Supervisor Wright is snowed in in his cabin at Big Pine Park.

Meanwhile, all the stock jokes of the season were reaping their customary harvest on all downtown street corners. The hat containing the brick was kicked, as is customary, the purse with a string tied to it was almost picked up; innocent looking parcels were discovered to be nailed down; nose-gays gave out the odor of ammonia instead of perfume; cigars exploded; candies were found to be loaded with soap or red pepper or filled with bits of rubber sponge. And, everywhere there was the usual chorus of "April Fool!" and plenty of hearty laughter.

Mother Found Guilty in Attack Upon Principal

The fight was taken completely out of Mrs. Rose Wolf yesterday. She was found guilty of disturbing the peace by Police Judge Bullock and will be sentenced tomorrow morning.

About a month ago Mrs. Wolf appeared at the East First-street school in a fighting mood and attacked C. M. Ward, the principal, with a stick. Her little boy, a pupil at the school, had told her, she said, that the principal had beaten him. At the hearing yesterday, however, it developed that Mr. Ward had merely rebuked the child for disobedience, and Mrs. Wolf tearfully admitted that she may have been entirely in the wrong.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Formal announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Herman S. Darling of 110 South Catalina street of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Darling, to Fred H. Forbes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stantell F. Forbes of North Ridgewood Place. The news was told to a small circle of intimate friends of the attractive young bride-elect at a luncheon and bridge yesterday afternoon, given at the Wilshire Country Club.

The decorations were charmingly carried out in spring blossoms and ferns, rose buds, delphinium, jonquils and tulips in the pastel shades of pink, blue and orchid, being combined with tulle and foliage.

The luncheon was given in honor of Miss Josephine Titcomb of Nogales, Ariz., who is visiting in Pasadena, and at the last corner of the luncheon the tiny cards bearing the names of the betrothed were concealed in the individual ice-cream baskets.

Mr. and Mrs. Darling and their daughters have been in Nogales for the past few months and will not return to Los Angeles permanently until early in the summer. Miss Alice and Miss Charlotte Darling are visiting at the home of Mrs. Thomas C. Cullen, Jr., on North Honoring Miss Margaret Gray, whose wedding with Dr. Francis M. Browne will be one of the brilliant events of Easter week, Miss Katherine Wigmore entertained yesterday afternoon with a tea at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert Wigmore, on West Adams street. The tea table was fragrant with spring flowers in the pink and rose tones, and the young hostess was assisted by Miss Mary Gray, Miss Dorothy Gray, Miss Marion Wigmore, Mrs. William Waldo Gray and Mrs. George Herbert Wigmore. Miss Katherine Wigmore will be one of the bridesmaids at the Gray-Browne wedding.

Birthday Party
Little Alice Marion McCormack was the charming little hostess at a party for her young friends, the occasion celebrating the third anniversary of her birthday. After several children's games had been played, ice cream and the lovely birthday cake with its lighted tapers proved the attractive feature of the afternoon. The table was centered with a basket of tea roses, tied with blue tulle. Each youngster was given a crepe paper doll, the skirts of which formed a cap, and a doll horn. Those included were Jeanne Donahen, Jillanne Brown, June Edgerton, Olive Zeaman, Dolly Jewett, Margaret Cowana, Billy McCune, Dickey Bailey, Bruce Campbell, Dean Hoffman and Arthur Hoffman. The little miss was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. R. McCormack, and the affair took place at the family home in South Harvard Boulevard.

For Bride
Honoring Mrs. Charlton E. Ames, who has just returned from her wedding trip, Miss Dorothy Thayer is entertaining with an informal tea and miscellaneous shower Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Ames will be remembered as Miss Mary Hampton, daughter of Benjamin R. Hampton of St. Andrews Place, the wedding being one of the charmingly arranged affairs of last month. Mr. and Mrs. Ames motored to Hotel del Coronado for their honeymoon.

Going Abroad
Mrs. John T. Mason, who has been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Lattin, on Fremont Place, is leaving Saturday for Washington, D. C., where she will join Maj. and Mrs. A. L. Rockwell for a month's trip abroad. In December Mrs. Mason leaves again for a trip around the world, returning to Los Angeles after a year's absence.

Returned Home
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen McCormick of 183 South Irving Boulevard, have just returned from a year's trip abroad. While away they visited various points of interest, including Algiers and South Africa, as well as motoring through the continent and the British Isles.

Planning Trip
Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Chalmers Myers (Mabel Massey), who have been making their home at the Alexandria, are planning an extended trip abroad, passing the summer motoring in England and on the continent, and not returning to Los Angeles before early in October.

Summer Plans
Mr. and Mrs. E. G. R. Sturgis (Valerie Timkin) of 911 Canon Drive, Beverly Hills, are planning a delightful summer, leaving for the week for Honolulu, where they will enjoy the warm weather months.

Home Party
One of the enjoyable affairs of the week was the informal tea with which Mrs. Sven Lokrantz (Carolina Winston) entertained at her beautiful new home on Citrus avenue, honoring Mrs. Philip Rekart of San Francisco, who, with Mr. Rekart, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Winston, Jr. (Ethel Maroney of San Francisco).

The guests were bidden for 4 o'clock and the tea table was lovely with a profusion of spring blossoms and roses. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. John B. Winston, Mrs. Margaret Winston, Mrs. John B. Winston, Jr., Mrs. Jack O'Malley, Mrs. P. N. Snyder, Mrs. Richard Tracy St. John and Mrs. Leroy Bentley. Forty guests called to greet the visitor.

SAM RORR ANNEXES BIG FILM NAMES

By Grace Kingsley
If you see Sam Rorr grinning cheerfully and rubbing his hands, don't make the mistake of laying it to the fact that he has just made a good rainstorm, that his golf stroke has improved, or anything like that. To let you in on a secret, Mr. Rorr has completed the organization of what promises to be one of the most interesting combinations in motion pictures, viz, that of Lewis S. Stone, featured player, Alfred E. Green, director, and Arthur Edson, cinema-matographer.

With the signing of these contracts, Mr. Rorr is departing for New York to complete negotiations for several stories and plays in which Lewis S. Stone is to be featured, with Green directing and Edson at the camera. All three of these artists have been associated with the producer in his two most recent successful pictures for First National, "Ines From Hollywood" and "The Talker."
"It has long been my desire to effect this combination," said Rorr.
"As I consider that Lewis Stone is one of the rare few really fine actors and artists now before the public, that Alfred E. Green ranks high among the first in picture directors, and that Arthur Edson is without a peer in picture photography, as evidenced by his work for Douglas Fairbanks on "The Thief of Bagdad" and "Robin Hood." We plan to produce a series of picture productions which we hope will mark an advance in screen achievement."

Accompanying Mr. Rorr to New York is Freddie Franklin, manager for Mr. Stone. Although the latter will return within three weeks, the full month will extend his stay to a few days. Mr. Rorr, who is now attending the Knox School for Girls at Cooperstown, N. Y., will be in ducing his production schedule in Los Angeles, his wife and daughter Europe, where they will enjoy the summer months.

"The Talker," Sam E. Rorr's latest production for First National, in which Anna Q. Nilsson, Lewis S.
Stone and Shirley Mason play the leading roles, is now in its final editing by Director Green and Le-Roy Stone, film editor. It will follow the producer to New York within a few days.

Helene Ferguson in THRILLING STUNTS Walking the tight rope, putting trick elephants through their paces —these are some of the exciting stunts which Helene Ferguson, away off to Maryland, Okla., is making these days as a part of her work as lead in her first Pathe picture, the glowing red and yellow world known in no uncertain terms that the 101 Ranch of Maryland.
Okla., houses the "Real Wild West and Great Far East Shows." Helene writes me one of her clever letters.

"Bless your heart," writes Helene, "did you ever expect you'd be the recipient of a letter on paper so radiantly splendid as this? I don't know whether you know it or not, but I'm here on my first picture for Pathe. It is tentatively known as 'On the Show.' Jack Cecil De Mille's first offering on his newly assumed altar of film independence is announced as a Leslie Joy starring vehicle, "Helita Highroad," adapted by Eve Unsell from the successful novel by Ernest Pascal, author of "The Dark Swan," one of the biggest current stage successes on Broadway, New York.

Edmund Burns will play opposite Miss Joy in the vehicle which is to be directed by Frank Urson and Paul Ibbie, that clever pair of comedians, who have recently achieved such signal success with "Changing Husbands" and "Forty Winks," two fast and amusing film farces.

"Hell's Highway" has to do with the adventures of a girl who schemes a fortune for her husband, only to have to scheme his misfortune and financial loss when he becomes more important than love. The tempo is quite in line with "Changing Husbands" and "Manslaughter," two productions which established Miss Joy as unusually clever in stories combining excellent drama with a strong vein of humor. The producer, editor is Bertram Millauer. Other members of the cast are still to be chosen. Signature of production has been set for the 15th inst.

Burns Returns Bringing a trunk along just spotted with foreign labels, Edmund Burns, more popularly known among his Hollywood friends as Eddie, returned to the city Sunday after a year of travel that included eight months in Europe.
Burns' work in foreign studios included two pictures for UFA, "Garrison" and "Believe It or Not."
"The Farmer From Texas," in which he appeared with Julianne Johnston and Pauline Garon, was his last picture before he came back to Hollywood.

Burns stopped over in New York for two months to play the male lead opposite Hebe Daniels in "The Manicure Girl," for Paramount.
Incidentally Cecil B. De Mille spotted the popular actor shortly after he had landed in the eastern metropolis, and signed him to a long-term contract. His work with this producer will commence at an early date.

Hungarian Beauty Here Vilma Banky, Budapest screen beauty, will arrive in Los Angeles today to join the Hollywood motion picture colony, and make her debut before American cameras. Although this is her first visit to Los Angeles, it will not be her first screen appearance.
She is well known as a European star and a favorite of the continental critics who hailed her as "the most beautiful blond on the European screen." Upon her arrival today she will be met at the train by Abraham Lehr, vice-president of the Samuel Goldwyn organization. Daniel Colman and other members of the Goldwyn staff. Arrangements have been made for her to stop at the Ambassador until she can personally select her Hollywood home.

Paulowa Pays Visit to Local Dance School
By paying a visit to the Ernest Belcher school, Paulowa broke her long-standing rule of not visiting institutions of dancing.
The dance was the guest of Belcher and witnessed the exhibition of eighty pupils of the local ballet master. She expressed great satisfaction with the work American ballet dancers were doing and was highly pleased with the results Belcher was obtaining from his own technique.
Paulowa's attention was directed to the school more recently because of the success of Lina Baskette as the premiere danseuse of the Ziegfeld Follies.

Orpheus Club
and Quartet Delight Many

In the more pretentious of the two programs which they have given this season, the Orpheus Club sang to a large audience last evening at Philharmonic. They were assisted by the inimitable Orpheus Four, a male quartet which has won a unique place for itself in Southern California concert halls. The merit of the entire club is sufficient for them to follow suit and secure out-of-town engagements throughout this part of the State.

Hugo Kirchhofer fairly outdid himself in his efforts to produce the best possible results with this finely-trained body of singers. They respond to a man to his direction with extraordinary precision and as a body, display many moods—a difficult feat for a large ensemble. There are about ninety-six men in the chorus.

Numbers especially to be mentioned include Saint-Saens' "Car-val Song," a number in the composer's most contagious style;
"Come Where the Lilies Bloom," by Will L. Thompson, and the classical "Banks be to God," from Mendelssohn's "Elijah," and arranged effectively by Potcher—who has devoted much of his time to the preparing of arrangements for this type of choral organization.
"Old Man Noah," by Marshall Bartholomew, had to be repeated so popular was this with the audience. "Waken, Lords and Ladies Gay," by Samuel Galpin, and also his "Autumn Woods," opened groups, and represented the talented composer in different veins.
Several other numbers made up the Orpheus program.

As for the Orpheus Four, if they make no special attempt to present the profound in music, never are they ever dull, and the very exuberance of their singing sends their audiences home with a faster circulation around their ribs, funny bones, humorous, et cetera. An organization of this type fills a very important need in every community, for surely no unrestrained, untrained, un-mannered, and must not people learn to love the lighter ideas and tunes before they can thoroughly the greater depths of music.

One could find a lagging tempo occasionally, or even a suggestion of roughness in quality, but throughout the entire concert the general high standard was kept up. The programs of this estimable organization are among the best of their kind in the city, and of this type of work. And indeed does not even Lawrence Tibbett, not to mention lesser lights, owe much to his real important training in this very organization?

STUDENTS REGISTERING FOR LHEVINNE CLASSES EASTERN PIANIST-TEACHER WILL OFFER END OF SEASON COURSE

With the opening of the classes to be conducted by that prominent pianist and teacher, Josef Lhevinne, but three weeks away, interest is daily increasing at the office of L. E.
Behrman, 1001
Auditorium Building, where registrations are being made by Miss Rena MacDonald. Announcement made that all registrations will close Saturday the 4th inst.

The Master School of Musical Arts of which Lazar S. Samoff is director is offering an opportunity to both the teachers and students in presenting Mr. Lhevinne at the end of the season, thus enabling the teachers to still retain their personal classes and the students to coach with Lhevinne without leaving their homes.

This will be the first time Mr.
Lhevinne has been west of Chicago; he comes direct from the Juillard School of New York and will return to Chicago for the summer.

Scholarships are offered in both private and class lessons with Lhevinne and at the close of the series he will give an informal recital program exclusively for the students.

FEODOR CHALIAPIN AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT
Tonight's concert of Feodor Cha-liapin, the famous Russian basso, at the Philharmonic Auditorium, will be his farewell appearance here this season, and with a different and bigger repertoire than before, he will close his brilliant tour of the West.

Chaliapin had practically no educational childhood. His first training was in a church choir and in his spare time he worked as a porter on the railway and as a stevedore on the Volga steamboats. After his first successful appearance in Petrograd his fame spread soon abroad, and engagements followed in Paris, London, Milan and Monte Carlo. New York saw him in 1907, but it was not until 1921 when he returned to the Metropolitan Opera-house and became the sensation of the year.

To him opera is one thing, and a song recital another. Although whether he appears in opera or concert is all one and the same thing to Chaliapin, he looks upon a concert as rather more strenuous than an operatic performance.
This is because in a concert he may have four important roles to sing, but in a concert he must be responsible for about fifteen times as many Russian songs as in his sincerity and candor, in his broad human sympathies, and in a certain childlike simplicity which is particularly engaging.

Assisting him will be Abraham L.
Sopkin, a violinist of note, and Max Rabinovich, who is a pianist, a cellist, and an able accompanist. Both will present a short program of exquisite selections.
